

LOUISA BEATEN BY TRAVELERS

The Knights of the Grip Wallop the Visitors From Louisa.

THE GAME WAS AMUSING

Minister Played Second and Did It Well—Catcher With One Good Foot.

Assisted by the Barton Heights battery, the baseball team representing the United Commercial Travelers took the game from the Louisa aggregation at Broad Street Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 9 to 5. And there was some excellent all the way through the game. The Knights of the Grip took the purler early after the first inning, and it was easy traveling until the destination—the ninth inning—was reached. Louisa had the wrong berth and their tickets were not marked for a return passage. They were relegated to a sleeper and the porter didn't break into their peaceful slumbers until after the game was gone. In short, they were left on the platform, while the winners pulled out with the gate receipts.

Plenty of Fun. But the game was one that afforded a lot of amusement. There were errors, but these fellows didn't challenge down the score, they tally little dots in this column. Errors made the game amusing and it likewise kept the crowd guessing what was going to happen next. Everybody expected to see some home runs, triple plays and such other things, but, strange as it may appear, in cold and cruel black and white, there were no four-bangers. Neither were there any triple plays 'so you could notice."

Louisa played the Rev. M. S. Eagle at short. Rev. Mr. Eagle is an Episcopal minister and is fond of baseball. He made three errors, but then the chances he accepted were hard ones and really the errors shouldn't count against him. But knowing that he won't swear about a little thing, the scorer chalked down the errors—tried, it looks, to fill the column full of them. He had the bat in the first four innings, the Louisa delegation had Mr. Black, who some years ago had the misfortune to lose a leg. Mr. Black was another leg that foul tips don't bother. But fate was against him and when the sphere took a sudden jump away from the bat, it caught Mr. Black's human leg. The inhuman one was not touched. Later Mr. Summerville relieved Mr. Black and took all of Mr. Bibb's twisters.

He Pitched Well. And, by the way, that man, W. Bibb, is a good pitcher. He didn't permit but five of the batters to land on the ball after he had put the knicks in it. He came out with a fast ball, and the man in the box was just like a man running for a train or ham sandwich or something of the kind. Bibb is all right, but any pitcher would be good with a minister playing short behind him.

And say, but that preacher could certainly get around the bases in true style. He ran like a Henrico county politician and made good all the way. All of the players did the best they could and there isn't any criticism coming their way. The U. C. T.'s won because they didn't get pitched all rascals as the Louisa fellows. And there by hangs the tale.

But of course all of them will be interested in the tabulated score, and here 'tis:

TWIN CITY GAMES.

Richmond vs. Manchester—The Brownies and Barton Heights. Richmond will tackle Manchester today for the first time. The Brownies are anxious to cling to the pennant. Some say that there are not enough games now to be played for Barton Heights to hope to win the pennant and others say that if the Highlanders do not lose again they can tie the champions for the sent up night. But be this as it may, there is lamentation in the camps of all and there will be some snappy ball this afternoon.

Between the four teams there is a strong rivalry at this time. Manchester and Richmond are fighting for the third place and against the last place, while Barton Heights and the Brownies are anxious to cling to the pennant. Some say that there are not enough games now to be played for Barton Heights to hope to win the pennant and others say that if the Highlanders do not lose again they can tie the champions for the sent up night. But be this as it may, there is lamentation in the camps of all and there will be some snappy ball this afternoon.

PRETTY WAR CORRESPONDENT SURRENDERS TO DAN CUPID

Miss Eleanor Franklin, Who Wrote for Times-Dispatch, Weds Martin Egan, Associated Press Representative in Tokio.

NEW YORK, September 15.—Martin Egan, representative for the Associated Press in Tokio, is now on his way to San Francisco with his bride, who was Miss Eleanor Franklin, war correspondent for Leslie's Weekly.

Miss Franklin came to New York five years ago from Indiana. She had been supporting herself by teaching music and singing, and sought an opportunity to secure literary work. One of her articles, submitted to Leslie's Weekly, led to her employment regularly by that publication as dramatic critic, three years ago.

She was the only woman, during the Russo-Japanese war, recognized by the Japanese Government as a war correspondent. While engaged in that service she met Mr. Egan, and an attachment sprang up between them. She was taken suddenly ill, and for a time her life was despaired of. While preparing to return to New York she accepted an offer of marriage from Mr. Egan, and the ceremony was at once performed.

Miss Franklin's letters from Japan to the Times-Dispatch attracted no little attention. Many who read them will be interested in this account of her romantic marriage to Mr. Egan.
